The Indiana Association of Agricultural Educators (IAAE) would like you to join us as we develop the over 250 agricultural educators in the state of Indiana. We invite you to participate in one of our Sponsorship programs which could include:

- Booth space at one or two of our professional development conferences
- The time to address the attendees of the conference
- Advertisement space in our IAAE teacher directory
- An advertisement linked to your corporate website on our web page
- Direct sponsorship of a teacher for a professional development event
- Individual Sponsorship of a session/ reception

To help ensure businesses receive visibility and quality time to speak with FFA advisors/agricultural educators, all exhibitors will have booths in common meeting areas at both conferences. While we do not anticipate any problems, you are responsible for your own merchandise.

Your Audience

Indiana Association of Agricultural Educators is the professional organization for agricultural educators throughout the state. IAAE provides its members professional development and advocates for their members as needed. Sponsors will have the opportunity to meet and talk with educators motivated to improve agricultural education in the state of Indiana. Over 300 Indiana agricultural educators and stakeholders will participate in the conference.

The IAAE directory is posted on the organizations website www.inaged.org which is utilized by teachers, businesses, and others vested in agricultural education in the state of Indiana. The IAAE Website also provides advertisement space for our supporter's logo on the front page of the website. In addition to looking for professional development, these teachers will be anxious to advance their knowledge about the agricultural industry, fundraising opportunities, educational resources, and ways to be a more effective educator. To increase attention to your booth, we highly encourage interactive displays, samples, and prizes.
